Twice Convicted of Forging His Wife's Name to an Alleged Will.

HAD THREE TRIALS

Question of a Site for Summer Camp of Seventy-first Regiment.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) NORFOLK, VA., June 16,-In the Hustings Court in Portsmouth to-day Judge Crocker overruled the motion for new trial of C. C. Johnson, convicted of the forgery of his wife's will, and sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Attorneys for the defense were given until Monday to file a bill of exceptions.

The case has been one of the most notable ever heard in Portsmouth. Johnson has been on trial three times, resulting once in a hung jury and twice in cononce in a hung jury and twice in conviction. On one occasion the case was taken before the Court of Appeals and a motion for new trial granted. When the second conviction of a few days ago was reached, another motion for new trial was made and was argued during the first part of this week.

Johnson, whose daughters were present in the court, was taken back to jail in the custody of the sheriff. He is being affonded by Attorney James Barron.

the custody of the sheriff. He is being defended by Attorney James Barron. Hope, of this city, and Colonel George C. Cabell, of Norfolk; Commonwealth's Attorney Kenneth A. Bain and W. G. Avery, of Norfolk, acting for the prosecution.

SUMMER CAMP.

The question of a site for the annual summer camp of the Seventy-first Virginia Infantry remains unsettled. Colonel Higgins has heard nothing from Governor Montague recently, and the presumption is that the Governor has been unable to devote the time necessary to consideration of the subject. The officers and men of the Seventy-first are anxious to go to St. Louis if they can secure for their ex-St. Louis if they can secure for their expenses their regiment's portion of the annual government allowance of $25,000 for camp instruction.

UNION LABOR.

It has been stated that union labor will build the Jamestown Exposition. No positive agreement to that effect has been received but all federations eater for eccived, but all indications point to an inderstanding in that direction which will sevelop, it is believed, into an agreement Next Tuesday the board of directors of the exposition company will appoint a committee of ten to confer with a committees of like number representing the Jamestown Labor Commission of Virginia, which has already been named. The purpose of this conference, which was requested by the union labor people, was not stated in the communication received. from the secretary, Mr. Reardon, but it is generally understood that it is to deter-mine the status of organized labor.

POLICE SERGEANT SHOT AT MARLINTON

Officer Attempts to Arrest Man Who Fires on Him-Prisoner Badly Beaten.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., June 16.-News reached here this morning of a difficulty at Marlinton, W. Va., yester, day, which resulted in the shooting of Sergeant Frank Anderson, of that town, and the serious injury of William R. Lester, of Tug River, Ky.

Lester, who for the past year had been residing at Clover Lick, W. Va., reached Marlinton on the early train yesterday morning. After imbibling pretty freely of whiskey, he entered a dry goods store and began cursing the proprietor. Upon being threatened with arrest by Sergeant Adderson, Lester went immediately to a hardware store and puychased two lyer Johnson revolvers. Upon meeting the officer want the street. a few minutes hardware store and purchased two Iver Johnson revolvers. Upon meeting the offiver upon the street, a few minutes later, he whipped out both pistols and began firing. The ball from the pistol in his right lmnd struck the sergesnt about two inches below his groin, while the builet from the weapon in his left hand went wild.

Before Lester could fire again, he was floored by a blow from the officer, who almost beat his head into a pulp. But for the interference of a bystander, Mr. Marcus Johnson, who seized the sergeint's arm, Lester would have been killed outright. Up to midnight last night the unfortunate man had not recovered consciousness. While lying on the walk the blood poured out of his nostrils in streams. His skull is fractured in several places, and his physicians say there is no hope for him. Sergeant Anderson, who had such a close call for his life, is getting along as well as could be expected.

THE SUPREME COURT OF VA.

Opinion Involving Conflicting Rights of Riparian Owners on Tidewater.

THE COLONIAL WILL CASE

Case Against Executor of Indiana Williams Reversed-Court Orders and Writs of Error.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WYTHEVILLE, VA., June 18.—In the Supreme Court to-day the following opinions were handed down by Judge Keith: Taylor vs. the Commonwealth, from mond, affirmed. This is a case of first impression, and involves the conflicting riparian proprietors on tidal waters of the Commonwealth. The appellant is a riparian owner, and had been leasing land for oyster planting, the lessee afterwards taking lease from the oyster beds. The lessee sunk an arte-man well between high and low water-mark and developed a mineral water of mark and developed a mineral water of high grade and very valuable.

The appellant in her bill claims to own the land to the channel of the river, which embraces this well. The court holds the riparian proprietor has no title to the water between low water mark and the channel of the river, hor to the soil beneath it, that she has certain rights accord the low water mark, as the right soil beneath it, that she has certain rights beyond the low water mark, as the right to build wharves, access to the channel, etc., under proper limitations and restrictions, and that her rights as presented in the record are not impaired or diminished by reason of any right or privilege granted to or exercised by the Colonial Water Company, the lessee from the Companyage of the companya the Commonwealth. TAX CASE.

TAX CASE.

The Commonwealth vs. Indiana Williams's executrix, from the Circuit Court of Amherst, reversed. In this case the ceurt holds that the intangible personal property of the testarix deposited in New York at the time of her death is proper subject for taxation against her executor in Virginia, and that the same property devised to the Sweet Briar Institute, a charitable educational corporation, whose property is exempt from taxation under the laws of Virginia, does not exempt the said property from tax.

ation, whose property is exempt from taxation under the laws of Virginia, does not exempt the said property from taxation in the hands of the executor before it is paid over to said institution.

EPES OUT OF

Withdraws From the Race for Congress in the Fourth District.

THE PRIMARY PLAN

Will Conform as Nearly as Possible to State Election

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., June 16.—Judge James B. Epes, of Blackstone, has retired from the race for Congress from the Fourth District, leaving the field at this time to ex-Governor Cameron and Congressman R. G. Southall. Judge Epes and Colonel Cameron are good friends and doubtless most of the supporters of Judge Epes will now work for Colonel Judge Epes will now work for Colonel Cameron. The contest is becoming an interesting one and the candidates are losing no time with their work. They will meet in joint debate throughout the district and it is likely that large crowds will hear all of these discussions.

Mesers. Cameron and Southall will discuss matters of interest to voters next Monday at Boydton, and Tuesday at Lawrenceville.
